Dear [Redacted]

Enclosed is our transcript from the interview with Director Casey. As you understand, changes are to be made to clear up portions that were inaudible or minor matters of style, not to revise matters of substance. We reserve the final right over which quote will be used if in our judgment the revision influences matters of substance, as you understand.

Again our thanks for your assistance with the interview. I apologize for the condition of the transcript, but at least I warned you. I look forward to hearing from you shortly. Since we are on a tight deadline, I appreciate your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Ronald Brownstein
